

2010 INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION FOR STANDARDIZATION (ISO) 14001:2004 CERTIFICATION

Environmental Management System (EMS)

In a time when environmental issues are becoming more pronounced, TARDEC's EMS continues to set the standard. For the fourth consecutive year, TARDEC's EMS passed its ISO 14001:2004 EMS Surveillance Audit with zero findings of nonconformance — “an extremely rare accomplishment,” commented the independent auditors.

ISO 14001:2004 is an internationally accepted standard designed to address the delicate balance between maintaining a business and reducing environmental impacts. The standard outlines specific requirements that enable an organization to legally develop and implement policy and objectives, including important environmental information.